consider parking in neighborhood
and walking if able.

Join the Mt. Tabor Neighborhood Association, the Portland Housing Bureau and Portland neighborhood historian Doug Decker for a fond farewell to the Mills Open Air School (AKA Mt Tabor Annex). Voluntary deconstruction of the building will divert approximately eight tons of salvageable building materials from the landfill. While there are currently no plans for new construction, providing an empty site is PHB's first step in bringing future affordable housing to the neighborhood.

Please wear sturdy shoes. While there will be no stairs on the tour, the walking surface is uneven.
